Woman jailed for £10k stock theft

A WOMAN has been jailed after she “systematically” stole £10,000 worth of stock from a Cambridge clothes shop and then sold it off on ebay.

Madeline Stock, 27, has been locked up for four months after she sold off stock from clothing store Warehouse over a period of two years.

David Stanton, prosecuting, told Cambridge Crown Court yesterday that the offence took place while Stock was employed at the chain's Grand Arcade outlet.

Stock, of Mallow Walk, Haverhill, started out at the store as a sales assistant and progressed to the role of floor manager over a period of seven years.

The thefts, which took place between June 2013 and May 2015, came to light when a security manager was made aware that a “large amount” of new Warehouse stock was being sold off on the internet.

Three ebay accounts were found to be selling Warehouse items and these were all traced back to the defendant.

Stock was then interviewed by police on June 9 this year, at which point she denied stealing the clothes.

REMEMBRANCE DAY

Crowds turn out to pay respects to The Fallen

Remembering great-grandfather who fought in the Second World War

AMONG the many who turned out to pay tribute at the Remembrance Sunday parade were Paul Cammiss and his 7-year-old grandson, Ashley Strudwick.

Ashley, who lives in Stradishall and attends Thurlow Primary School, watched the parade wearing three medals belonging to his great-grandfather, Chris Cammiss.

Chris Cammiss was posted to France in July 1944, but was wounded three weeks into active service and spent much of the rest of the war on a hospital ship. He died earlier this year.

Ashley also wore a medal awarded to his great-grandfather James Gregory, for service as a Royal Artillery gunner in the First World War.

Paul Cammiss, a retired solicitor from Haverhill, said about his grandson: "He was really looking forward to watching the band marching past. He was quite impressed with the whole thing."

HUNDREDS of people turned out to a Remembrance Sunday procession in Haverhill at the weekend.

The parade began in the town hall car park, from where a procession including a Sea Scouts' band, cadets, veterans and members of the Royal British Legion, made its way to the Haverhill cemetery.

At the cemetery's war memorial, there was a wreath-laying ceremony led by the Lord Lieutenant's representative, Mr George Vestey, Deputy Lieutenant, the Mayor of Haverhill, Betty McLatchy, and the Mayor of St Edmundsbury, Patrick Chung.

Bryan Mills, chair of the Haverhill branch of the Royal British Legion, said: "I thought it was a very, very well attended parade. It was very good."

"We had in the several hundreds of people. There was one point when the whole high street was full of the parade."

After the wreath-laying, a Remembrance Sunday service led by the Rev Graham Owen was held at St Mary's Church in Haverhill's Market Square.

The event was attended by MP for West Suffolk Matthew Hancock, who laid a wreath at the cemetery.

Mr Hancock said: "It was humbling to have been given the opportunity to lay a wreath and pay tribute to the loyal service of brave men and women who continue to keep us safe."

"Remembrance Sunday is a time when we remember the cruel reality of war, and the never ending debt of gratitude we owe to those serving across our armed forces, both past and present. We must never forget the sacrifices they made for our freedom."

■ Silence was observed at 11am on Armistice Day yesterday on Haverhill's Market Square. Representatives from the Royal British Legion, the Naval Association and the Ex-Servicemen's Club were present, as well as a number of veterans. Mr Mills said the exultation and the bugle was played by Brian Good.

Mr Mills said: "At about five to 11 the whole place started to quieten down. There was traffic going up and down and then everyone stopped. The whole town stopped."

EDUCATION

Headteacher takes on new role

A HEADTEACHER is preparing to make the move to a new academy.

Andy Prestoe, current principal of Samuel Ward Academy in Haverhill, is preparing to lead the development of the Samuel Ward Academy Trust's Sybil Andrews Academy in Bury St Edmunds, which will open in September next year.

Mr Prestoe will work part-time from Christmas, commencing a full-time role next September.

Howard Lay, chief executive of the trust, said: "I have advertised for a principal at Samuel Ward on a part-time basis from Christmas so that there is a clear transition up to September.

"The Samuel Ward Academy Trust will support Samuel Ward throughout this period and Andy and I, as part of a wider team, will continue supporting the school in the future either as executive headteachers or in a more strategic role."

AWARDS

Town champion receives honour

HANNAH MIRSKY
@HannahMirskyCN

THE Queen heard about work going on to improve Haverhill on Tuesday – as she made a businesswoman from the town an MBE.

Sarah Howard, who runs software company Sarand and is chair of community partnership ONE Haverhill and Abbeycroft Leisure, visited Buckingham Palace to receive the honour.

She said: "The Queen was lovely. She pronounced Haverhill right for starters!

"She asked about what the award was for and I talked about all the work and the apprenticeships we are doing to improve the town."

Mrs Howard was named in the Queen's Birthday Honours List which was published in June. She was being recognised for her services to the community in Haverhill.

As well as her work for Abbeycroft Leisure, which runs Haverhill Leisure Centre, and ONE Haverhill, Mrs Howard has been chair of Haverhill Chamber of Commerce and is currently president of Suffolk Chamber of Commerce.

She said about receiving the MBE: "It just highlights the work that we are doing in Haverhill and the contribution businesspeople can make to their community.

"It brings attention to Haverhill and all the people who are working to improve the town."

Mrs Howard now has plans to continue her work with the many bodies she is involved with: "My intention is to get ONE Haverhill to a place where it can be taken over by someone else – it's a partnership.

"I want to carry on working with Abbeycroft and the Chamber of Commerce."

COURT

Woman jailed for stealing stock

From front page

However at a later interview on July 16 Stock accepted what she had done and subsequently pleaded guilty to one count of theft from her employer.

Donal Lawler, mitigating, said Stock was remorseful for her actions and that she had previously been a woman of "impeccable character".

Mr Lawler said the defendant took the "catastrophic" decision to abuse her position at Warehouse after the breakdown of her relationship with her boyfriend.

He said: "She sought solace in binge spending which she couldn't afford and the debts built up."

Judge Anthony Bate acknowledged the defendant's early guilty plea but added his decision needed to reflect the "systematic" manner of her offending.

He said: "The three testimonials I have read from people close to you speak highly of your many good qualities.

"It is those positive character traits that allowed you to reach the position you were in and then to exploit it.

"You took clothing from the store and you knew which lines were popular and you created bogus ebay accounts to sell them for personal profits.

"It must be a sentence that deters others and to reflect public confidence in one's approach to sentencing."

GPs cannot cope as it is

HOW can this be right?

I was told to ring at 1 o'clock to obtain a GP appointment as that's when more appointments are released for booking. I rang and was held in a queue for almost 20 minutes to be given an appointment one week hence.

The GPs cannot cope with the number of people already living in Haverhill but thousands of additional houses are to be built. What bright spark is responsible for putting the cart before the horse this time?

Why shouldn't we park?

I AM writing in response to a letter you published recently where a member of the community was complaining about the leniency of parking in the town during the evening.

My blood was boiling as she threw her militant opinion out to your readers. Is she joking? I am a busy woman who thinks that it is important for the local businesses that members of the community are able to stop outside their outlets and purchase food which is hot, ready and prepared.

After all, as a working mother and a keen feminist, I find myself constantly on the go. I believe there are more pressing issues to concern ourselves with.

My introduction to feminism was with an image of naked women chained to the gates of Buckingham Palace, being presented live from a bird's eye perspective as a BBC helicopter circled the gates, recording. As police were trying to hide the women's flesh with woolly blankets, my mother explained to me that these women were feminists fighting for my future and my right for freedom and equality. I have now spent years reading, debating and promoting the history and future of feminism, although I did not truly understand the connotations of feminism then. Sadly, however, there is an unforeseeable price to pay which our heroes of feminism, overlooked. They did not anticipate a nation of exhausted women as our lives become a plethora of juggling careers, raising and teaching our children, whilst managing the domestic as well as the financial aspect of running a home. This is in addition to maintaining our own health and being good members of the community.

Of course they had no idea that whilst they re-educated society with their pleas of just how capable women are, they forgot that the men would also need some re-educating too. Thus the fight becomes less of: 'I want a career!' and more about: 'Whose turn is it to put the bin up?', 'Who forgot to buy the milk for the morning cereals?' and definitely, 'why isn't my dinner ready?' For me, on a rare occasion, I appreciate being able to park in the town. I wouldn't dare do it during the day; the other militants are out. Despite the sometimes hectic parking, our high street is one of the safest places to be so could your reader please consider her views because most of the town like having the freedom to park up and pop out.

I wonder if the women who made these huge sacrifices to give your reader her right to vote, to have a career and to 'Take Back the Night' would feel that it was worthwhile.

COMMUNITY

Appeal launched as charity faces funding cuts of 50%

GET IN TOUCH: Three Counties Transport's volunteer drivers with the charity's phone number
Picture: David Johnson

For more news from your area visit cambridge-news.co.uk/haverhill

A CHARITY that provides transport to elderly and vulnerable people is facing a 50 per cent funding cut – as more and more people need their services.

Three Counties Transport, based in Haverhill's Lower Downs Slade, has six buses which community groups can hire and a team of volunteer drivers who transport individuals.

Manager Lyn Davis says the charity has seen a recent increase in the number of people needing their services for hospital visits – but from next April their funding from Suffolk County Council will be cut by 50 per cent over three years.

Staff at the charity are looking into ways of accessing smaller pots of funding, but they need help from the public.

Ms Davis said: "I don't think we're ever going to replace that 50 per cent, because Suffolk County Council have always been our main funders."

"There's an older population, more elderly, more hospital transport demands. It's less funding, but an increase in passenger demand."

As well as the funding cuts,

HANNAH MIRSKY
@HannahMirskyCN

the charity are having to buy their buses from Suffolk County Council, who previously owned them. Although they have secured three of the buses, they need to raise tens of thousands of pounds to try and secure the other three.

Members of the public can help the vital transport charity by donating money or volunteering as a community driver.

"The more we do, the better we can say: 'The demand is here,'" said Ms Davis. "The situation with Haverhill being 18 miles from Addenbrooke's and West Suffolk Hospital means they need transport to get there."

Volunteer drivers get reimbursed 45p per mile for their trips, which is the same as the trip costs the passenger.

If you would like to volunteer, as a driver, use the services of Three Counties Transport, or donate money, call Lyn Davis or Melanie Catten at the charity on 01440 712 028.

Cinema screenings for everyone

A SERIES of screenings for people with disabilities has begun at the Haverhill Arts Centre.

About 15 people attended the first screening, of animated film Inside Out, last Thursday.

The screenings have been organised by disability charity Leading Lives in partnership with the Arts Centre.

Emma Croker, team leader at Leading Lives, said: "It's for people who are socially isolated with few opportunities within the community; for people with visual impairments, hearing impairments, learning disabilities, physical disabilities and those on the autistic spectrum."

The screenings have the lights a little brighter and the sound a little quieter than regular screenings, to let people move around.

The next film, Pan, will be screen on December 3 at 10am. Tickets cost £3.50.

CRIME

Police warning after burglaries

POLICE are warning residents to be on the alert after thieves broke into ten Haverhill garages in the space of a week, including seven in a single night. One family say they were left "violated" by the raids, while another had £500 worth of goods stolen.

On the night of November 4 to 5, burglars broke into three separate garages in Haverhill's Fritton Court, and two in the town's Shepherd's Court. On the same evening, they targeted garages in Hamlet Road and Buckingham Road.

The burglars plundered the garages that were not empty, taking a trolley jack and a pink pedal cycle from a Shepherd's Court garage, and an umbrella and fishing equipment from one in Fritton Court.

This spate followed three other burglaries of garages in the space of a week. Garages in Paske Avenue were broken into between October 29 and November 5, while one in Clements Close had £500 worth of plumbing fitting stolen between October 28 and November 2.

Ernie Goody, 68, was the victim of yet another, when thieves broke into his Dalham Place garage and stole his son's wheelchair and a 24-pack of Coke.

He said: "I feel violated, to be honest. Now I know how people feel when they come home and find their house has been turned over."

He was particularly shocked that the thieves chose to take his son Mathew's wheelchair.

He said: "He does use a crutch sometimes - it depends how his back is - but they're not to know whether that wheelchair's in use all the time."

"It's a disabled person's chair, it must be needed by someone."

Police are advising residents not to keep valuables in their garages, and to follow relevant safety advice.

PCSO Lorna Chapman of Haverhill Police said: "You can get alarms, battery operated with a motion sensor. If you put it in the corner of your garage it gives about ten seconds to enter a four-digit code."

As well as an alarm, PCSO Chapman recommended parking your car up against the front of the garage to prevent thieves from entering. She suggested leaving the steering wheel on full lock so thieves could not move the car by releasing the handbrake.

If you have information about any of these incidents, call Haverhill Police on 101, or Crimestoppers anonymously on 0800 555 111.

If you think a crime is in progress always call 999.

All change for parking tariffs

HANNAH MIRSKY

@HannahMirskyCN

ENFORCEMENT of parking fines could increase, and new parking tariffs be introduced in Haverhill – if recommendations in a new report are followed.

The report was discussed at a meeting of St Edmundsbury Borough Council's overview and scrutiny committee.

One of the recommendations is an increase of 15 hours a week of enforcement in off-street car parks.

Cllr John Burns, who is on the committee that drew up the report, said: "Two years ago, they decided to get rid of parking enforcement officers in Haverhill. The amount of money taken in fixed fines has stopped dramatically.

"The only enforcement that happens now is when the guy comes over to take the money from the machines."

If the recommendation is followed, council staff will patrol Haverhill car parks making sure that parked cars have paid the correct amount for their stay.

The report also makes recommendations about changing parking tariffs in the town.

One of them is to introduce a tariff for the previously free Rose and Crown car park behind the Corn Exchange building.

This car park is owned by the borough council but had not previously been regulated. The report suggests introducing a charge of £1 for four hours of parking and £2 for all day parking.

According to research carried out for the report, the most congested area of Haverhill is the Ehringshausen Way and Leisure Centre car parks.

At the Leisure Centre, occupancy reaches 90 per cent at peak times. In contrast, the Meadows car park behind the leisure centre has only 20 per cent occupancy.

Cllr Burns said: "We are very conscious that the Meadows car park is under-utilised because people don't want to walk."

The report therefore suggests making the leisure centre car park short-stay only, with a £1 tariff for three hours of parking. It also proposes reducing the rate at the Meadows car park to encourage people to use it, with a rate of £1 for four hours and £1.50 for all day parking.

The report also makes a number of proposals for reducing congestion in Bury St Edmunds car parks.

Before the proposed parking changes can be approved, there will be a month-long public consultation. The report will then go before the borough council's cabinet in December and then before the full borough council.

To find out more and have your say in the consultation, visit www.westsuffolk.gov.uk.

Fireworks attract big crowd

HUNDREDS of people turned out to a firework display in a village near Haverhill on Saturday.

The display was held on Thurlow Recreation Ground.

It was attended by 850 people, and raised £1,500.

Visitors were treated to a 30-minute display of Daredevil and Showstopper fireworks, as well as a bonfire and a barbecue.

The proceeds will be donated to local good causes, which will be decided when the Thurlow Fayre committee meets at the end of November.

The causes will include the East Anglian Air Ambulance, St Nicholas Hospice Care and the Addenbrookes Charitable Trust.

SHOWSTOPPER: The fireworks attracted a crowd of about 850 people

ARTS

Documentary maker sets sights on superhero comic

CREATIVE: Mark Allard-Will, formerly known as Mark A Allard, is hoping comic book fans will take to his latest creation, Saskatch-a-Man

THE man behind an acclaimed documentary about Haverhill free-runners is appearing at an international comic book festival.

Mark Allard-Will – who previously went by Mark A Allard – grew up in Haverhill and made the documentary We Run These Streets, about parkour and free-running – sports which involve acrobatic movement around urban spaces.

Mark's latest venture is not a film, but a comic book. With drawings from his Canadian partner Elaine Will, the comic tells the story of Saskatch-a-man, who represents a mash-up of "Saskatchewan roughriders, fan culture and superhero culture".

Although it draws on Canadian culture, Mark, who now lives in Saskatoon, Canada, believes it will appeal to comic book readers in his home town.

He said: "I'm hoping that the comic book fanbase in Britain will get behind it, and I guess for the British audience there's some kind of wanderlust for Canada and past

HANNAH MIRSKY

@HannahMirskyCN

British countries.

"I'm just really hoping that people will enjoy it and find the humour and the comedy in it. It's meant to be something that makes people laugh at the absurdist comedy and the idea."

Mark and Elaine debuted Saskatch-a-man at the Saskatoon Comic Expo in September, and they are bringing it to Britain this weekend to appear at the Thought Bubble Sequential Arts Festival in Leeds.

Elaine has also written a comic about mental health, entitled Look Straight Ahead, which she will be promoting at Thought Bubble this weekend.

While Mark would like to return to film-making at some point in the future, his next project will be a comic about videogaming, which he hopes to debut in December next year.

CITIZEN'S ADVICE

Help to reduce heating oil costs

IN the run-up to Christmas, as financial pressure from cold weather and the festive season set in, the News is running a series of columns from Citizens' Advice Suffolk West on how to save money this holiday season. This week, the experts give advice on heating oil costs.

Q. I use heating oil to power my home, but I'm struggling to cover the cost.

It's hard for me to cut my energy use to save money, as my daughter's asthma gets worse if I turn the heating down too low.

Is there anything I can do to cut my bills?

A. Households which use heating oil often struggle to cut their costs as they don't have the same ability to shop around as those who are on grid.

But there is action that you can take to cut costs and save money, without having to turn down the heating.

Stocking up on oil now,

HANNAH MIRSKY

@HannahMirskyCN

before temperatures start to drop, can help you avoid the high costs of buying during the winter.

The cost of oil is usually at its highest in December, January and February, as extra demand can push up the cost.

Make sure you shop around for the best price and ask suppliers about flexible payment options if you struggle to pay the whole cost up front.

Joining an oil club is also a great way of saving money as you can often get a better price by clubbing together and buying in bulk.

This will also cut down the number of trips the oil supplier needs to make, which could reduce delivery costs and is better for the environment.

There is local help through Community Action Suffolk which organises an oil club, see www.communitybuying.org.uk.

Or look for other oil clubs by putting your postcode into the oil club map at www.citizensadvice.org.uk/oilclubs.

If you would like to set up your own club, CAB can help. Go into the bureau or visit the website to find out everything you need to know.

It's also worth checking whether there are any grants or discounts you are entitled to. A quick call to the Energy Savings Advice Service on 0300 123 1234 will help you get to the bottom of that.

Haverhill CAB can be found at Haverhill House, Lower Downs Slade, Haverhill, CB9 9EE. It offers a drop-in service for advice on Mon, Tues, Thurs and Fri, from 10am to 1.30pm. Telephone advice is available on Thurs and Fri from 1.30pm – 3.00pm. The phone number is (01440) 762194. www.citizensadvice.org.uk also provides information. Volunteering opportunities are available.

Waterhall Farm's quality turkeys

WATERHALL FARM: The succulent taste of mature turkeys

WATERHALL FARM is a family run farming business which has been rearing turkeys since the 1950s. It is immensely proud of its reputation for supplying high quality turkeys, full of traditional flavour to enjoy at Christmas.

Waterhall Farm is confident that its customers appreciate the succulent taste of the Suffolk Farm Fresh turkeys and understand the care taken in rearing them.

Waterhall Farm rear the turkeys from just days old. Arriving in July, the turkeys are carefully selected from slow growing strains and allowed to grow to maturity. They are bred for good old-fashioned flavour and texture, which is worlds apart from the modern, fast growing commercially killed/processed turkeys.

Waterhall's turkeys are traditionally processed in December for fresh collection. Each bird is individually dry plucked and then hung for seven to ten days in a chilled environment to develop an even fuller flavour. All birds are dressed by hand.

When you arrive home store your turkey and giblets separately in the refrigerator.

Tips for a perfect roast turkey on Christmas day: Waterhall Farm recommends a roasting time of 40 minutes per kg at 190 degrees centigrade, gas mark five.

Check your oven is large enough if you intend on cooking a big bird, and buy a special turkey roasting pan. Turkeys are heavy so take care when lifting in and out of the oven.

Smear the breasts with olive oil or softened butter and protect the breast with butter papers or foil.

For a tasty attractive finish sprinkle the turkey with ground paprika and crushed thyme before cooking.

For hygiene reasons, don't stuff the body cavity. Instead, lift the neck flap and press your stuffing up against the wishbone.

Check the meat is cooked by parting the skin between the leg and breast. If it is still a little pink then allow an extra 20 minutes on top of your calculated time. Juices should run clear, not pink.

Never carve a bird straight from the oven. Allow it to stand for a least 20 minutes. It won't lose heat if you cover it loosely with a foil tent. This also allows you to get your roast potatoes nice and crisp.

Chill leftover turkey as soon as it is cold, and serve within 3 days. If serving hot in a sauce such as a curry, then reheat until piping hot.

Your Christmas dinner will be a meal to savour.

So why are Waterhall Farm's turkeys different?

1. Waterhall Farm use slow growing traditional strains that are grown to full maturity 22+ weeks old which aids with the cooking to make the meat nice and juicy.

2. No growth promoters or hormones. Just a mainly cereal based diet.

3. Hang for minimum of seven days, to gain lots of natural flavour.

4. Dry plucked by hand by people who care.

Waterhall Farm is located at Wixoe, Stoke-By-Claire, Sudbury, Suffolk CO10 8UA.

FITNESS

Going with the flow as things hot up at the leisure centre...

HANNAH MIRSKY

@HannahMirskyCN

HAVERHILL is in the midst of an exercise boom. The town's leisure centre has just upped the number of classes it runs to 60 as classes were selling out too quickly.

Leisure centre manager Nigel Snape said: "I've not seen such a demand for group fitness like this in a very long time."

To see what all the fuss was about, I went to the leisure centre on Monday evening to try out one of the newest classes, called "Vera-Flow". It seemed a little less intimidating than some of the other new classes, like high-intensity workout "Insanity".

A VeraFlow class is made up of three sections: dance, stretching, and mindfulness. The dance section is a bit like Zumba, with Latin-inspired numbers. Our instructor Claire Smith kept up the energy, cheering the class on and clapping as each routine finished.

The workout is gentle – you find yourself getting warm rather than hot and sticky – and is enormous fun to anyone who enjoys a good boogie.

IN FULL FLOW: Reporter Hannah Mirsky with VeraFlow instructor Claire Smith

After the dance comes the stretching section, and the pace slows a bit.

You flow through poses, getting your muscles all relaxed and tingly, until it's time for the mindfulness part.

We lay on our backs on the mats, and Claire talked us through a vision of walking down to a sandy beach and floating in the sea. I left feeling like I'd been on holiday.

This class is perfect for anyone who wants a gentle, enjoyable workout. If you like your exercise a bit more intense, "Insanity" might be the one to go for, but it seems there's something for everyone at Abbeycroft.

POLICE

Keep your keys safe with police service

DO you have trouble with losing your keys? A scheme being run by Suffolk Police and Age UK could give you some peace of mind.

Members of Suffolk SAFEkey receive a branded fob with a unique reference number which means police can identify who they belong to.

Whoever finds the keys on the fob receives a £10 reward for handing them in or sending them to a secure address. They will be returned if lost anywhere within the UK or EU.

Members of SAFEkey can also store additional information in a database online and register a key holder.

So far the scheme has 6,500 members, with over £20,000 worth of lost keys returned to their rightful owners.

Age UK Suffolk is supporting the scheme as it could help create greater peace of mind for older people in the county. For each person that joins the scheme, £1 will be donated to the charity.

The service costs as little as £1 per month to join. If you are interested in joining, visit www.suffolk.safekey.org.uk, or call the Suffolk SAFEkey hotline on 08444 121 802.

By joining Suffolk SAFEkey you will be entered into a free draw to win £250 of high-street shopping vouchers.

THEATRE

The Gruffalo

It's not just little ones who will love the Tall Stories stage adaptation of Julia Donaldson and Axel Scheffler's much-loved picture book (voted the nation's number one bedtime story by BBC Radio 2 listeners), grown-ups are likely to be thoroughly smitten too. And who can blame them? It is one of the most charming of tales after all. The musical show follows the plucky Mouse on a daring adventure through the deep dark wood, where he meets the cunning Fox, the eccentric old Owl and the party-mad Snake along the way. Will the story of the fabled Gruffalo save Mouse from ending up as dinner for these wily woodland creatures? Armed with only a nut map and a little courage, Mouse must outwit them all. After all, the Gruffalo is just a tall story, right? Packed with magical songs, lots of laughs and the odd fright too, it promises to be monstrously good fun – for all ages.

The Gruffalo, Cambridge Arts Theatre, runs until Sunday, at various times. Tickets £12.50 from (01223) 503333 / cambridgeartstheatre.com

AT THE PUMP: Prices are falling Fuel prices still falling

PETROL prices have fallen for a fourth consecutive month, according to new data.

The average price of unleaded at the end of October was 107.8p, compared to 109.5p at the start of the month, the RAC Fuel Watch found.

This is equivalent to a saving of 90p on the cost of filling up an average 55-litre family car.

Since July, the cost of a full tank has fallen by £5.08 for unleaded.

The price of diesel only reduced fractionally in October, down from 110.26p to 109.95p – but it is not far off the lowest price since December 2009, which was recorded in the first week of September at 109.76p.

The continued run of lower fuel prices is being driven by the oil price, which remains below 50 US dollars a barrel – despite a 2 per cent increase throughout the month.

Time to go full winter

AS summer is now behind us, should you be thinking about winter tyres, and when is the best time to switch?

The brief Indian summer the UK has been enjoying lately is sadly past and winter is on the way. With forecasters predicting the worst winter weather in a long time, many drivers are thinking about fitting cold weather tyres to their cars. Should they and, if so, when is the right time to make the change?

First things first: what are winter tyres? They are tyres designed specifically for use in colder temperatures. They are not snow tyres, which have a much more aggressive tread pattern and are for use on 4x4 off-road vehicles.

Winter tyres are made from rubber that allows more movement in the tread pattern than summer tyres, which allows slush and snow to disperse. This design also allows the tyre to warm up more quickly, which helps it provide more grip rather than summer tyres, which remain brittle at temperatures below 7-degrees centigrade.

That temperature is the key to knowing when to switch to winter tyres from your car's usual summer rubber. It's wise to change before the chilly weather sets in so you are not caught out when the first frosty blasts arrive.

This does not mean you need to worry about driving on winter tyres in warmer conditions, as this type of tyre remains fully functional and completely safe at temperatures of up to 20-degrees centigrade. It gives you a lot of leeway in picking when to swap to winter tyres, but late autumn is a good bet before frost and ice starts to appear in the mornings.

Many drivers will worry about the cost of fitting a second set of tyres when their existing ones have plenty of tread and life in them. While buying winter tyres will add to your running costs in the short-term, it won't cost you any more over the ownership period of the car. This is because you will be using one set of tyres in the summer and another set in the winter, so the tyre wear is spread across two sets of tyres.

Aside from the cost issue, there is also safety to consider. If you stick with a set of summer tyres for your car all-year round, you greatly increase the risk of a collision on snowy or icy roads. On summer tyres, it takes the average car 43m to stop from 30mph on snow-covered roads, while a car with winter tyres will pull up in 35m. That's a difference of two car lengths.

In winter, the risk of drivers being involved in a collision, regardless of who causes it, increases six-fold. During the harsh winter of 2010, more than three million drivers were involved in a collision of some type and almost half of all drivers reported being in a near-miss.

Given the winter of 2015/16 is predicted to be as bad or worse than that in 2010, swapping to winter tyres in the next few weeks makes a great deal of sense.

ABSOLUTE ICON: The Jaguar E-Type

Jaguar E-Type is voted best Brit car ever

THE Jaguar E-Type is the best British car in history, according to a global vote held by the organisers of Classic & Sportscar – The London Show.

The show, which ran over the Halloween weekend, saw thousands of votes cast by guests from all over the world.

And it was the famous Jaguar that came out on top in a field that included the McLaren F1, the original Mini, the Bentley Speed Six and the original Range Rover.

John Edwards, managing director, Jaguar Land Rover Special Operations, said: "This a fantastic accolade for one of Jaguar's most recognisable models ever built."

"The Jaguar Heritage

business aims to support loyal and passionate customers so that models such as the E-Type can continue to be maintained and enjoyed across the generations.

"The fact that it has captured the most votes in a global public vote is a testament to its status as one of the world's most iconic sports cars and now, officially, as the Best British Car Ever."

James Elliott, Classic & Sports Car magazine group editor, said: "The E-Type has it all, looks to stop traffic even today and a driving experience that has stood the test of time. More importantly than that, though, was that at the time you could not have bought more style and performance for the price."

"It is a car that seduces young and old and is a very worthy winner and rightly the Best British Car Ever."

The car was officially unveiled at the 1961 Geneva Motor Show and was an instant hit. One of the display cars featuring on the show stand in 1961 was an open-top version of the iconic sports car – 77 RW – which was driven almost non-stop from Coventry to Geneva by Jaguar's legendary test driver, Norman Dewis OBE, nearly 55 years ago.

Such was the E-Type's popularity it attracted many well-known celebrity and VIP owners such as Steve McQueen, George Best, Sir Jackie Stewart, Brigitte Bardot and Frank Sinatra.

CURFER app offers feedback on driving

SATNAV giant TomTom has launched CURFER, a system providing feedback for drivers on their behaviour.

CURFER uses an on-board diagnostics device connected to the driver's smartphone to provide accurate and insightful information on various elements of his or her driving style. The system provides feedback and analysis of your braking, acceleration, cornering and idling, with advanced statistics, real-time feedback and even the opportunity to share the results using social media.

This enables drivers to compete with their friends to get the best possible performance. Drivers are rewarded with digital badges.

"With the launch of TomTom CURFER, we're able to help people to become better drivers," said Thomas Becher from TomTom Telematics. "The CURFER app takes a novel approach to visualising and monitoring your driving data, meaning people can now show and share their driving style, and experiences, with others."

Sims wins award at British GT ceremony

Motorsport

ALEXANDER Sims may have missed out on the British GT Championship but he was honoured at the series' end-of-season awards ceremony with a prestigious accolade.

West Wratting driver Sims, who finished overall runner-up with co-driver Marco Attard in an Ecurie Ecosse BMW Z4, was presented with the Allan Simonsen award in recognition of his impressive performances throughout the year and his sportsmanship throughout.

Sims was beaten to the championship crown by Jonny Adam and Andrew Howard, and admitted afterwards that he thought Adam was a shoo-in for the award.

"It was a real surprise," said Sims. "So much so that I fumbled my words in my acceptance speech."

"I hadn't thought about winning the award because I thought it was a given that Jonny Adam would win it."

"It was really nice to receive the award and a lovely gesture from the championship."

Danish racer Allan Simonsen was a regular in the British GT Championship until his untimely death during the 2013 Le Mans 24 Hours, and the award was created in his honour.

The qualities that the award recognises are pace, humility and good humour.

"Those things sit quite highly in how I want to go about my work, but I don't expect to be recognised

HONoured: Alexander Sims (left) with the Allan Simonsen award, along with Cambridge's Luke Davenport who was presented with the Rookie of the Year award for it," said Sims.

"I'm still gutted to have missed out on the championship but to receive this award is a nice way to finish of the season."

■ Brian Chandler claimed the BRSCC Mazda MX5 Championship last month and now he has his sights set on claiming another award.

Chandler, from Haverhill, is one of 10 contenders nominated for the Club Racer of the Year accolade by Downforce Radio, a specialist motorsport radio station.

Some superb performances on the track, which included some come-from-behind wins to secure the title, are what earned him his place on the short list.

It is now down to members of the public to vote for their favourite from the 10 drivers on the short list.

To lend your support to Chandler, visit <http://downforce-radio.co.uk/awards>.

Voting closes at 9pm on December 3.

Bartlett and Kennedy have the edge in ASCO

PAUL Bartlett and John Kennedy claimed Haverhill's final major of the year as they won the ASCO Cup on countback.

A field of 64 took part in the foursomes medal, which had a handicap limit of 18, half combined.

Golf

Bartlett and Kennedy shot nett 68 along with Matt and Neil Farlie, but it was the former pairing who took victory on the tie-breaker.

Alan O'Donoghue and Martin Mansfield took third after a round of 71, although they too needed countback before their place was confirmed.

Mary Sail was victorious by 12 shots in the ladies' midweek medal, going round in 71 with Ann Thompson second on 83.

Lady captain Sheila Price won the Saturday medal with 86 and Pat Kennedy was runner-up on 91.

Stephen Beasley won the Rehab Cup individual stableford with 40 points.

Graham Ashcroft took the runners-up spot one point behind Beasley and Nigel Taylor edged out Liam Merritt for third after both scored 38.

However, Merritt won the prize for the lowest gross score of 72 and Elaine Ward was the highest ladies' scorer with 35.
